The First "Foreign Invasion"

In referring to the acquisition by the Royal Dutch Shell of a controlling interest in Lord Cowdray's Mexican Eagle Oil company, through the purchase of shares heid by S. Pearson & Non (Limited), it happened that the writer referred to the early experience of the, Roxana in getting a foot-hold here by buying into the Cushing field, but this was not the first time that foreign captillal was invested in Okiahoms.

When Doctor Weber was in Tulsa the other day on his way to Mexican the state income tax fet into the state into the state income tax fet into the state into the state into the state into the state

May we were convinced that the sale had been made Because he had wired his superintendent to pump the well on the property night and day. Gunsburg received $1,250,000 for the property, and it would have brought more than that only a short time ago. It was sold about 10 years ago when oil was cheap and afterwards, became the property of the Okla-homa Producing & Refining Co., who are still operating it. It looked like a great fortune in those days."

"Nearly 2,000,000 acres in the field are under lease by various oil companies, over half of which is held by what is known as the Deming interests, a group of New York financiers of the Waldorf-Astoria hotel and known to all Tulsans who visit New York, as the Waldorf is the New York, as the Waldorf is the headquarters for Tules oil men.

"The Tuxbury corporation has ap-propriated $500,000 for the test work on their enormous holdings, which on their enormous holdings, which have been approved not only by practical oil men, but also by three different firms of Oklahoma and Texas oil field geologists, who have been working over their territory for over one year, and they now have five strings of tools running and 27 locations made on the western highland rim of Tennessee, about 40 miles west of Nashville." Mr. Deming says. "Dickson is headquar-ters for the scouts, who are three in number."

Is Reviving

C. W. Deming, who is in Tulsa for a few days from Tennessee, has brought some interesting reports from the older fields in that state. Mr. Deming is interested with H. J. Rickabaugh and Thomas A. Hookey, drilling superintendent in some of the Terreli which had an extraordinary drilling campany drilling campany drilling campany drilling campaign is silredly under way.

In the Ranger pool there have been two very important wells reported in the last 24 hours. The Prairie Oil and Gas company No. Is L. Danley about two miles northwest corner of the cast half of the southeast of 35-11-13 on the Prairie Oil and Gas company No. Is L. Danley about two miles northwest of the southeast of 35-14-15 west of the Terreli which had a showing of oil several weeks ago, at 1,440 feet had been drilled on down 15,000 barrels. A very important wells and as a result of these opinions being published, renewed interest is being taken in these oild west Tennessee fields. Where oil was produced more than 30 years ago, but which were passed over for a time, due to overshadowing by other fields coming in.

The Berea sand is found at 600 feet and the Trorton rock at 1,120, both sands ahowing for good producers. Active drilling operations on leases recently blocked are starting in Robertson, Montgomery, Dickson, Hickman and Humphreys counties by operators from Tulsa.
